Are you looking for new challenges?

Do you want to take on ambitious challenges in your everyday work and support the development of a growing international manufacturing company?

We need a Production Planner (F/W) to support and help us in our daily production process.

The Production Planner operates at the heart of the production activities. He/She occupies a key position between sales back office, suppliers and the production shop floor and carries out the following responsibilities :

- ✧ Creates the production schedule based on the analysis of the manufacturing capacity, suppliers' schedule and workforce size;
- ✧ Defines reliable delivery date for the customer orders;
- ✧ Communicate with the internal or external customers. Provides orders confirmation, keep track of the progress of the orders and communicate possible changes;
- ✧ Manages and integrates of customer forecasts into production planning
- ✧ Creates and supervises the shipping list in order to secure the on time delivery performance to our customer orders.
- ✧ Defines the material schedule to assure the production plan and generates purchase propositions;
- ✧ Manages supplier order confirmations and delays;
- ✧ Identifies supplier and internal issues that impact production schedule and drive the finding of the solutions in collaboration with other departments;
- ✧ Defines optimum stock replenishment parameters to balance inventory level and supply chain reliability.
- ✧ Assures availability and reliability of Production Master Data (BOM, Routings, reference price...)
- ✧ Use external customer portal for specific ordering and shipping process.
